A new software upgrade is now available for the Iridium GO!® Mail and Web application for iOS devices. This upgrade resolves a few bugs, improving overall user experience. The primary fixes are as follows:

- The functionality to forward and view attachments on your iOS device has been fixed, allowing you to receive, view and forward attachments seamlessly
- Outbound Bigmail's Cancel and Save buttons which were not functioning have been fixed and the view to send the bigmail has been modified for a better end-user experience
- Inbound Bigmail's layout to view the download/delete option has been modified for a better end-user experience

While this release is not mandatory, it is strongly recommended that the upgrade be performed as soon as possible to enable the best service experience.
